THE RACES YESTERDAY.
The races and the 10-mile interstate race between Miss May White and Miss Lizzie Williams were the features of the fair yesterday. The first race was the

THE ONE MILE DASH.

The third race was a mile dash between Concellor and Little Manie. This was one of the prettiest races of the fair. Both horses passed the half mile point exactly even and continued so for another quarter when Concellor shot about a foot ahead and gained another foot by the time they reached the wire at the end of the heat. The race was very exciting and very close.

THE BASE BALL.

The base ball game Friday between the St. Louis Browns and the Picked Nine of Sedalia players was too one sided to be interesting. The score stood 26 to 0 in favor of the visiting club and could have been 100 just as easy had the St. Louis club made any effort. The following is the official score:

THE TEN-MILE RACE.

The drawing card of the fair yesterday was the 10-mile interstate race between Miss May White as the representative of Missouri and Miss Lizzie Williams, the Kansas champion, for a purse of a thousand dollars.

The ladies and their horses were in fine trim and it looked as if the race would be a close one with chances in favor of the Missouri girl. The book makers, however, did not allow their sympathy to control them, as did the majority of the spectators, and chalked the odds on the blackboard 135 to 88 in favor of the Kansas girl. The Kansas girls' backers took every bet they could get Friday and Saturday morning, but never gave any odds. The Missourians stood up for their girl nobly and put up their money without stint.

The race was called at 4:20. The ladies mounted their steeds were led to the judges stand and at the command "go" fairly flew. The Missouri girl had a few feet the advantage and increased it until the end of the second mile when the Kansas girl caught up with her. The next mile was neck and neck but on the third when the Kansas girl changed the Missouri girl gained a quarter of a mile. The fresh Kansas horse was a daisy and soon closed up the intervening space and at the end of the fourth mile was a little ahead. At this point the two changed horses, but on account of the Kansas horse being handled the best the Kansas girl made her change and was a full quarter ahead before the Missouri girl got started. Unfortunately the Missouri horse was a plug, or run like one, and the Kansas girl gained nearly a half mile. The Missouri girl made up half of the loss in the last two miles, but lost the race by a full quarter.

A GREAT SCHEME.

A Kansas Detective Agency at Work in Pettis County.

It is astonishing at the amount of veridicality that yet remains in a very large class of young men in this country. The young man who showed up at the police court Friday morning with a revolver and a commission as a detective from a Kansas detective agency is only one of many in the county who carry similar papers. No less than a dozen with the tin badge of that agency attempted to pass into the fair grounds every day since the fair opened and were astonished to find that the tin badge or shield was no good. The young man at the police court thought that his commission gave him the right to carry a revolver, and a part of his outfit is a pair of handcuffs. He is in jail in default of $50 to pay his fine for carrying the concealed weapon, and some of these other gentlemen similarly outfitted may find themselves in the same fix.

The detective agency is one of the newest ways to make money yet discovered and it is astonishing that there is in this country anybody so green as to give up their money on such a scheme. The Kansas detective agency has advertised in all of the papers reaching the rural population wanting bright young men with or without experience, (the latter preferred) to act as detectives in their own locality. The advertisement requests all who desire the appointment to send $3 and a commission with official shield, etc., will be sent by return mail. The commission authorizes the holder to go ahead and ferret out criminal cases where rewards are offered. In case the detective captures the criminal the association will see to collecting the reward and pay him one-half. A printed list of a dozen cases, with the Snell case, where $25,000 reward is offered for the murderer, is sent with the commission for the new man to begin work on. The agency calls attention to the fact that if he captures the murderer of Mr. Snell a small fortune of $125,000 will be his. With this brilliant prospect ahead, the young man goes to work, paying his own expenses. After he has worked a week the agency writes to him that he needs a pair of handcuffs, piaches etc. and they get another sum out of him for them. There is nothing out of the way with the agency. There is nothing in their proposition that is illegal or fraudulent, but a man with the brains of a jay bird would know that such an organization cannot confer any more authority than a committee of boot blacks. Anybody can get a job of detecting and arresting criminals for half the reward.

Hibbard's Rheumatic Liver Pills

These pills are scientifically compounded, uniform in action. No gripping pain so commonly following the use of pills. They are adapted to both adults and children with perfect safety. We guarantee they have no equal in the cure of Sick Headache, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, and, as an appetizer, they excel any other preparation. W. E. Bard, druggist.

The Springfield Fair.

The Springfield, Mo., fair and exposition begins September 2nd and continues six days. This is truly a great Southwestern fair, typical of the growth and resources of the great Southwest. Springfield is the commercial center of the country for a hundred miles around it and this fair is an exposition of the products of that great and growing region. Twelve thousand and five hundred dollars have been offered in premiums. The world renowned Sedalia Fiambeau club will make its greatest effort on the night of September 5th and no pains will be spared for the edification of visitors. It will be a success.

A Great Invention.

A Kansas City woman has invented a machine to wash dishes. The dishes are placed in a machine and a turn or two of a crank does the work. The irksome work of an hour or two is performed in less than five minutes. It is estimated that the hotels and restaurants of Kansas City alone pay $800 per day for dish-washing, and every house keeper knows that it occupies a very considerable portion of her time. The machine, therefore, supplies a long felt want, and if the machine proves to be a success, the inventor is sure of a fortune and a place at the head of the column of benefactors of the female portion of mankind.

Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup and Plasters are prescribed by the leading physicians of Michigan, its home state, and are remedies of unequalled merits for rheumatism, blood disorders and liver and kidney complaints. It comes with the highest endorsements and recommendations as to its curative virtues. W. E. Bard, druggist.

The arrangements for the reunion of the ex-Confederates at Higginsville, Mo., on the 27th and 28th of August, are about completed, and it is expected to be the largest point of attendance of any previously held, this being the seventh of the series. At the meeting of the Southern Historical Society on Thursday evening it was announced that Kuenh's Band and Hunt Wilson's section of artillery would go. The society has a sleeping car over the Missouri Pacific, which will remain over during the reunion for the accommodation of members, and also reclining chair cars for those who expect to find quarters in the city. Members and others coming up on the Iron Mountain or from other directions, will be furnished accommodations on either the sleeper or other cars, as they prefer. Both the Missouri Pacific and Chicago and Alton furnish round trip tickets at $6.55. The reunion will be held on the fair grounds, to which admission will be free to members wearing badges, and to their invited guests, also to members of Higginsville, Lexington, Concordia, Lamar and Warrensburg posts.

A barbecue dinner will be served on the fair grounds Tuesday and Wednesday, and 250 tents will furnish sleeping quarters to the soldiers who prefer those to hotel quarters. The address of welcome and response will form the opening exercises of the first day, and in the afternoon addresses will be delivered by prominent ex-confederates and Union soldiers.

One of the objects of the association will be to carry forward the project of a confederate Soldiers' Home recently inaugurated in that city.

Statement of Rev. Thos. Bollinger.

OF OSKALOUSA, IOWA.

In the fall of 1887 my attention was called to the medical pamphlet published by the Rheumatic Syrup Co., of Jackson, Mich., advertising Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup. The ingredients composing the remedy and known to be of great medical merit, led me to believe the remedy a good one and I bought six bottles. I had a soreness in my stomach and sides and a spinal affection which threatened paralysis. I applied two plasters extending from my stomach to my sides which I wore for a month. I never found any medicine which gave me so much relief. I recommend Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup and Plasters remedies of great merit, and, I think, the greatest of the age. W. E. Bard, druggist.

He was robbed.

N. Criglar, of Longwood, a young mute, was robbed of $28.50 while he was sleeping Friday night at a farm house on Mrs. Battie Gentry's place. He claims that the robber entered the room through a window while the occupants were sleeping and relieved him of his money. He is a book agent and resides in the neighborhood of Longwood. Mr. Robert Barnhart, sleeping in the same house was relieved of $2, probably by the same person. They have no clue as to who did the act. From the size of the track that was on the outside of the house it is very probable that the robber was a negro.

Near Death's Door.

News from Lamonte yesterday gave the unwelcome information that J. R. McConnell, an old resident of that place, was at death's door and his demise was hourly expected. He has for a year been in failing health and now the hand of time and disease has laid him low.

James R. McConnell was born in Dauphin county, Penn., January 17, 1818, consequently was 71 years old his last birthday. In 1854 he removed from his native county to Lebanon county, where he resided a short time, when he removed to Dayton, Ohio, in which place he lived two years.

He removed to Moniteau county, Mo., in 1859, arriving there with $412. During the war, he and Frank Hickox were largely engaged in furnishing beef and forage to the government. After the war, 1866, Mr. McConnell and Mr. Hickox bought a large tract of land where Lamonte now stands. These gentlemen laid out the town in 1866, and called it Boomer, in honor of Geo. Boomer, a prominent bridge contractor on the Pacific railroad. How it got the name of Lamonte is one of the lost items of the town's history. Mr. McConnell was a prominent figure in building up the new town, having moved there the year after the town was laid out.

Subsequently, he went into various enterprises in which he lost money, and he died a poor man, but none the less respected and honored by his friends and neighbors. He has fought a good fight, and in him Pettis county will lose a valuable citizen and an enterprising man.

In its treatment of rheumatism and all rheumatic troubles Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup stands first and foremost above all others. Read their medical pamphlet, and learn of the great medicinal value of the remedies which enter into its composition. W. E. Bard, druggist.

POLICE COURT.

Lust, Poverty and Vice Furnish a Good Docket.

Mollie Miller, Nellie Richards, Jennie Hartman, Jessie Browning and May Coile, a quintette of soiled doves who keep an establishment of questionable character in the second story above the Chinese laundry on Main street, were before the court yesterday morning on charges of keeping a house of prostitution, etc. All of the women except Jesse Browning, are recent comers, having come with the crowd to attend the fair. They pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined $20 each. The fact that the officers had made a raid and captured the women, had become noised about generally and the usual big crowd of spectators was present. To the credit of the much slandered bald-headed men, only one of them was present and he occupied a seat in the rear end of the house.

Ora Smith and George Roberts, a pair of stalwart men, were charged with loitering about the city at night and not able to give a good account of themselves. Officer James Gossage testified that about half past 11 o'clock Friday night a man seized one of the gas trees at the corner of Osage and Main and giving it a violent shake caused five or six globes to fall with a crash. The fellow jumped into Gordon's saloon where the two prisoners were found an instant later. There was no other persons about and the officer is satisfied that one of them did the mischief. Gossage stated that Roberts was a tough customer and lived the greater part of his time in the jails of the different places he is at, and that every time he favors this place with a visit a robbery is committed. Roberts flew into a rage and declared that Gossage could not prove his charges. He claimed that he came here to visit his sister, Mrs. Dix, but the testimony of three other officers was to the effect that he never went near her but laid about the town drunk. The officers keep a close watch on this fellow whenever he comes to town. A fine of $10 was assessed against both of the men. Nothing could be done about the breaking of the gas globe as the officers could not tell which of the men did the mischief. It is a great pity that respectable people have to submit to such losses at the hands of disreputable drunken loafers.

Thomas McLurey and Wm. Burton, a couple of young men pleaded guilty to being ston-blind drunk. Burton said he desired to make a statement, and the permission being granted, he said that if they would give him a dollar and an hour's time, he would leave the city for good. The city attorney thought the request was the cheekiest he ever heard of and answered that the city needed some rock broken too badly for that.

Payton Childs, a colored horse jockey in charge of "Tornado," was arrested on the fair grounds Friday while trying to collect a $5 bet by means of a revolver. He was surprised when a fine of $25 was assessed against him. He said he always understood that the law allowed horsemen and travelers to carry guns.

Frank Miller and Wm. Brown were arrested on account of the manner they came into town. The latter rode in on the blind end of a baggage car while the former came in on a side door Pullman. They were fined $5 each.

Dora DeWitt and Mrs. Ettie Turpin, charged with keeping rooms on Dentucky street, for purposes of prostitution, pleaded not guilty and had their trials set for Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Acute and chronic rheumatism can be effectually and permanently cured by the use of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup and Plasters. W. E. Bard, druggist.

Charged with Jumping a Board Bill.

A warrant was issued by Justice Blair last evening for the arrest of Robert Dean and Tom Odell, a couple of brakemen charged with jumping their board bill at the Lone Star hotel. The warrant was sworn out by W. H. Long, the proprietor.

Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup cures rheumatism by striking at the seat of the disease and restoring the kidneys and liver to healthy action. If taken a sufficient time to thoroughly eradicate such poison, it never fails. W. E. Bard, druggist.

Ice Cream Social.

The Salvation Army gave an ice cream social at the barracks last night which was largely attended and proved to be very enjoyable in every feature. Two long tables were decorated with flowers and upon them fine cake and cream were nicely served. Music on the Organ was furnished by Members of the band and the occasion netted a handsome sum for the army.

ter. The Kansas girl passed under the wire in the tenth mile in 234 minutes from time of starting. The Kansas people of course cheered and the Missourians were correspondingly depressed, but one and all concede that Miss White need not feel ashamed of her defeat. She displayed wonderful skill and had she been provided with as good horses as her rival she would have won the race. Her defeat was entirely due to the inferiority of her horses. However Miss Williams is a wonderful rider and her powers of endurance simply marvellous. In the race yesterday she did not show the least sign of fatigue from her twenty-mile ride Wednesday.

Her riding pays handsomely. The fair association paid her $1000 for Wednesday, race in addition to her winnings yesterday. Both of the ladies have arranged to ride at the Kansas state fair any will go from here direct to Topeka. They have made horseback riding and physical training very popular among the ladies here and it is said that there are a number of ladies who, besides becoming expert horsemen, have already developed muscle enough to hold their own in any boxing contest.

Hay Fever.

I have been a hay fever sufferer for three years; have often heard Ely's Cream Balm spoken of in the highest terms; did not take much stock in it because of the many quack medicines. A friend persuaded me to try the Balm, and I did so with wonderful success.—F. S. Geer, Syracuse, N. Y.

I can recommend Ely's Cream Balm to all hay fever sufferers, it is, in my opinion, a sure cure. I was afflicted for 25 years, and never before found permanent relief.—W. H. Haskins, Marshfield, Vt.

The "Kansas Detective."

The friends of J. W. Conrad, the "Kansas Detective", who was lodged in jail Friday for the nonpayment of a $50 fine for carrying concealed weapons, came down from Smithton yesterday to get him released if possible, but when they found that nothing but the payment of the $50 would get him out they went away sorrowing. One of the bank officers say that they were annoyed all Thursday afternoon by some jay-looking fellow closely eyeing the patrons of the bank as they came and went in transacting business. He appeared to be looking for somebody but they set him down as a harmless green young man from the country and took no steps to have him ejected from the bank, the description of the fellow answers to Conrad. He was evidently "detecting" a little to get his hand in.
